QUAIL PLENTIFUL IN ARKANSAS Season Opens Dec. 20—Snow Needed to Track Decr.

pecial to the Post-Dispatch. ST JOE, Ark., Dec. 3.—Although the open season on deer has no resulted in much profit to th no fall of snow sufficient for track ing the animals, there is prospect that hunters will find some recompense in quall when the sea-son opens Dec. 20.

Quail are more plentiful this fall than in many seasons past. A favorable breeding season, which is always characteristic of pro-longed dry spells in the spring and summer, resulted in coveys being larger and more numerous. To protect the birds, however, Isaack Walton Leagues and the fish and game department have statements asking that "pot hunt statements asking that "pot hunt-ing" be stopped during heavy snows, when large flocks bunch in fence rows, thickets and other sheltered places and are easy prey to the hunter.

NEW BAIL BONDS LAW

Present System of Releasing Criminals Is Failure, Says Report Asking for Stricter

Revision of the State law govern ng criminal bail bonds, to creat a ond commissioner for each city of ounty of the State, and stricter es for sureties and forfeitures. was recommended by the October grand jury in its final report t Circuit Judge Hogan today.

The jury held that the present bond system is "ineffective and in practice does not accomplish the purpose for which it was created." recommended that the next St. Louis delegation to the State Legislature seek the enactment of an amendment to existing statutes along lines set out in the report.

Court Would Set Reports. The amendment suggested would authorize the appointment of a bond commissioner for each city or 000 or over. The commissioner's duties would be to keep accurate records of all bonds executed, together with affidavits of sureties s to their net worth, and to file every 60 days, a detailed list of onds then outstanding, the character of security for each bond, and the amounts of forfeitures and paynents, on forfeitures.

It would require that all bail onds have a sworn statement of the surety attached, setting forth the amount of the bond, the net worth of the surety and the mount of bond obligations he is

It would require that a record of the Recorder of Deeds, with cnries in the Recorder's record of ll releases and forfeitures, and would punish with from two 'ive years' imprisonment the failure to record a bond or the transfer by a surety of property listed a sworn statement, Court permission, and the substiution of other property.

Saturday the Fur Section gives special attention to its fashionable young patrons who are in search of Fur Coats of the smart, trim, youthful type. For them we have assembled a large showing that includes furs of the popular pelts, designed in the very models most becoming to the young figure-and (most important of all) we have priced them extremely low! Whether you prefer one of the smart novelties, or a more conservative style, it is here in

Muskrat Russian Foal Beaverette (Dyed Rabbit) Kid Giraffe Kid Leopard Caracul Paws

So, you see, the amount you've set aside for your Fur Coat will buy the coat and a new frock or a new hat, too, if you take advantage of these special prices!

Colors Are Charming in Mid-Season Frocks

Modes for Madame and Mademoiselle

$25 and $39.50

There's a charm that is irresistible about these Frocks that bring the very first hint of Spring in their fresh, lovely colors. Rose, blue, green, gray, beige—each is charmingly shown in Frocks of crepe, Georgette, satin, for the afternoon and evening affairs of the holiday season.

A favorite device of the new mode is the combining of two colors, two fabrics, or two shades of the same color. Embroidering the blouse in metal threads, pleating the skirt in unusual ways, and beading the dance Frocks with brilliants, are new notes. Many new modes, for misses in sizes 14. 16 and 18, and women's 34 to 501/2.

After the conference yesterday, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania ex-plained that he had invited Moses and Watson to hear the "true story" about the election of Vare, and to "dispel the general opinion that Vareism was something sinister and wicked."

Mackey, he said, gave facts and figures from his record to show that a large expenditure of money was made necessary by a "fool election law in a large state and that no corruption was involved."

"Discussion of the Vare case in the Senate will open the eyes of the country, as the election has been grossly misrepresented," declared Reed. 'If zero ballots in election districts constitute fraud, how can Southern Senators explain any election in their states, where the Republican vote is ridiculously

THE JUDGE ENGLISH CASE.

From the Tulsa (Ok.) World. THE resignation of Judge English from the Federal bench a bare week before the Senate was to vote on his impeachment, was, we think, very unfortunate both for the jurist and the country

The charges brought against the Judge by the lower house of Congress were exceedly grave, touching both his honor and his temperamental qualifications. His resignation under fire leaves the public no alternative but to accept the charges as true. amative but to accept the charges as tri

If English was guilty of the things harged, he should have been made to suffer something more than the loss of his office; for the position of Federal Judge is high and the fall therefrom should be accompanied by suitable punishment; in particular at this time, when there is a mani-fest disposition, in certain quarters, on the part of Federal Judges to presume outrageously, a case of this character followed through, even to the speeches for impeach-ment and against, would have had a most

ND it would have been a splendid prece-A dent to establish had the evidence shown nothing more than a temperamental unfitness for the bench and had the Senate dismissed him on such grounds. For temperamental unfitness in a Judge is as grave matter ofttimes as absolute personal disnonesty, is capable of working even greater havoc with the standing of the Federal judiciary.

Let it once be established that such grounds are sufficient for impeachment, and the country would speedily see much less of this swaggering assumption of power on the part of men suddenly raised to the Federal bench.

MAILING CHRISTMAS CARDS. From the Cleveland Plain Dealer

O NE of the first preparations for Christmas is usually the selection of personal greeting cards, the custom of having these printed or engraved having grown to great dimensions. In this connection it might be well to be mindful of the request of the Postoffice authorities that Christmas cards be not smaller than two-and-three-quarters by four inches. The stamps on cards smaller than this must be canceled by hand, which makes an onerous chore for Postoffice employes at a time when the office is undated with mail. Excessively large cards are also awkward to handle. At a time then we are all making extra demands upon the services of the Postoffice this favor is a small one to ask of us in return. There is a wealth of variety in size of shape of cards between the two extremes. The postoffice does not attempt to dictale the exact dimensions of Christmas cards. It merely asks us to avoid the Tom Thumbs and Jumbos. Anything we can do to expedite postal service reacts eventually to our

With the Copeland Refrigerator come conveniences and advantages not hitherto equalled in Electric Refrigeration.

There could be no more charming gift for Christmas or greater permanent boon to you and yours than one of these wonderfully modern household conveniences.

We invite you to compare a Copeland Dependable Refrigerator with any make of electric refrigeration at its price or higher. You will find the Copeland handsomer, stronger built, better finished, better insulated, quieter in operation. You will note at once that it has greater ice cube capacity and more food storage space. That it reveals unexpected niceties and conveniences at every turn, and is absolutely automatic in operation.

And corration cost is lower. There is greater value for ea dollar expended.

Here is a real gift for her or him which will bring smiles at Christmas and give lasting satisfaction and delight for many, many years.

Complete Copeland units for as low as $230; or a Copeland unit for the present ice chest for as little as $230. Trifling down payments. Easiest of terms.

Mystified to read newspaper eports of his capture, the Phanom accepts Dr. Bimble's hosp -lity. That night, while invessecret turnel, he sees the hid-den door open from the tobacco shop, hears the Gage housekeeper cry, "He's killing me," and watches her fall dead just as the door clicks shut, Next morning the newspapers tell of the mistaken arrest of

TOMMY GRANGER, reporter on the Sphere, who so closely resembles the Gray Phantom that he had been taken prisoner With characteristic promptness, the Phantom determines to see this man. Cleverly outwitting the network of police watching for him, he drives to the office of the Sphere, where a stroke of luck lands the intoxicated Tommy Granger in his cab. Taking refuge with PENG YUEN, an old Chinese whom he had once befriended, the Phantom changes clothes with the reporter, locks him in a hidden room and emerges from Chinatown as Tommy Granger. That night a weazened man gives him a cryptic warning from THE DUKE, an old enemy, whom The Phantom had been instrumental in sending to prison. Knowing that he is outward'y Granger, the Phantom realizes that the reporter is a member of the Duke's gang. Returning to the Gage shop for some trace of the murdered housekeeper's rowing surmises. His situation was

BARRED FROM BOND,

Mate of Defaulter on Sureties the French steamer Propatria reported on docking here. Roper sighted the Totilla, an hour before reaching this port. There was no

Sam Arky, professional bonds man, who made a fortune signing bonds now worthless and who is ircuit Judge Hogan had told him e had no standing in his court.

Mrs. Arky filled in a qualifica ion blank stating that she possessed $35,000 worth of property above Incumbrances and offered perself as surety for a $5000 bond n the case of Mary Fields, Negro, held for murder.

Judge Hogan refused to accept her on the bond and told Arky he would have to find another surety to sign the bond with his wife, or wo others, if Mrs. Arky did not wish to become co-surety.

When the Post-Dispatch ctober disclosed that Arky had o property in his own name on which the Sheriff could levy upon, most of the udges interviewed about the case aid they would accept him on no ore bonds until he produced new qualifications. The disclosure Arky's status as a bondsman folowed the report of the Missour sociation for Criminal Justice hich showed that Arky had signed 670 000 worth of bonds in one ear, 1924, with only $25,000 in

Today, Mrs. Arky set forth that he owned store and flat buildings at 1917, 2325 and 2700 Franklin venue, assessed at $4980, $11,000 and $14,500, respectively.

Mary Fields, the defendant, hose original bond Arky signed, did not appear in court this mornng when her name was called, and udge Hogan ordered the $5000 ond forfeited. Arky produced her later, explaining to the Court that he had told her to wait outside. The forfeiture was then withdrawn and the defendant pleaded not guilty of stabbing a Negro named and then became necessary and Arky asked the Court to accept his wife as surety.

GIRL CHUMS FOUND TO HAVE DIED OF CYANIDE POISONING

erdict of Premeditated Suicide One Case; Jury Undecided on the Other pecial to the Post-Dispatch.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 3. -After hearing 30 witnesses, the coroner's jury investigating deaths of Ruth Drake and Sarah Lundstedt, young women chums, whose bodies were found by a roadside lunday night, returned a verdic hat Ruth Drake came to her death v cyanide poisoning as premedi tated suicide. In the case of the Lundstedt girl, the jury decided she died of cyanide poison, but whether self-administered or otherwise the jury was unable to deter-

Outstanding evidence presented o the jury was a letter written by Sarah to Leone Bammes, a University of Utah, student, friend and confidant of both girls. This let-'quit" if Sarah broke their friendship. The letter continues in part: "That, I take it, she means she will ommit suicide. Do you really bebluffing me? If she ever did such a thing, I would always feel that I was to blame and wouldn't that be a nice thing to carry on one's conscience for the rest of their life? I am up in the air and don't know what to do." Arthur Burrel, employed in ewelry store where Ruth worked. said she asked him Saturday morning how much poison it would take to kill a person. The fathers of the two girls sat side by side, tears streaming down their faces, during the hearing. COURT UPHOLDS $500 FINES

OF YOUTHS ANNOYING WOMAN William Kean and Arthur Meing Pretended Her Husband Was Injured. She Charged.

Police Court fines of $500 each against William A. Kean of Mehlville, Mo., and Arthur Meine of 116 South Eighth street on charges of disturbing the peace of Mrs. Lillian Schillinger, 8402 Alabama avenue, were upheld on appeal by Judge Gayer of the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday. The Judge dismissed an additional fine against Kean for possession of obscene pictures.

The two youths went to the home of Mrs. Schillinger on Nov. 9 and told her, she testified, that her husband had been injured and was taken to a hospital. They offered became suspicious and called police.

ANDREWS ASKS FOR RELEASE OF YACHT DRY AGENTS SEIZED

Indorses ePtition of Russell A. Alger, Owner of Palatial Boat. Lauretania, Held Under Bond.

y the Associated Press. NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 3 .- Release from bond of the palatial steam yacht Laurentian and dropping of charges against its master, have been recommended by Lincoin C. Andrews, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, in a letter read in Federal Court during a learing on a petition filed by Rus-el A. Alger, owner of the yacht, to release it from a bond of $150,000. The Laurentian was seized in local waters last summer by the coast guard after 724 quarts of whisky had been found in a locker which was supposedly sealed and, locked. She was under charter to C. K. G. Bilings, millionaire sportsman, on board with a party of guests.

Martin Taylor, New York lawyer, presented the petition for the release on behalf of Mr. Alger, who is ill at his home in Detroit.

Gen. Andrews wrote to Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney-General, not only recommending release of the yacht, but reiterating his policy of concentrating on prosecution of major prohibition offenders, rather than petty violators. The letter also declared he was not satisfied fith the procedure of the coast guard in searching the vessel.

Judge L. Lawrence Groner gave the District Attorney five days to file an answer to the petition and the attorneys for Mr. Alger five days to submit mriefs.

"The Department recommends that this case be dismissed in the best interests of law enforcement because in my judgment the facts are that the shipmaster and lessee and owner were all innocent of any possible intention to violate the prohibition law," Gen. Andrews wrote. "The only mistake, as I see it, was one of negligence in not taking some steps, before the ship was leased and taken to sea again, to get rid of the contents of the sealed locker, rather than leaving it a matter of an uncertain future. In his petition, Mr. Alger said he had not been aboard the yacht since the fall of 1915, when he became ill and went ashore at San luan Porto Rico.

Newly Arrived Representative Urges Investment of U. S. Capital in His Country. A. Casarin Jr., new Mexican Consul to St. Louis, was elected an honorary member of the World Trade Club of St. Louis at a luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce Building yesterday. In a brief address he urged the investment of American capital in Mexican industries, and declared there were "great possibilities in every kind of industry in Mexico." Casarin read Mexican import figures for various manufactured products and reasoned that manufacturers of various products could profit by developing plants in Mex-ico using Mexican raw materials and labor. He promised the busi-ness men of the club his co-operation in the exchange of trade information. Casarin arrived in St. Louis last Hoover Suggested Pool.

The pool plan was suggested by Secretary of Commerce Hoover last year when prices went to $1.20 a pound. The National Automobile Chamber of Commerc ook up the plan and aided outting through the agreement.

The British restrictions establish total of standard production When the price for a quarter does not average 42 cents, exports are reduced 10 per cent. The market has been declining recently, due to large stocks of crude rubber and unsold tires, and quotations are two and three cents below the fixed Prices on the New York rubber exchange stiffened after announce-ment of the pool, but F. R. Henerson, president of the exchange,

"The announcement, important though it was, naturally did not have an extreme effect on the movement on the exchange, which governed largely by supply and emand and other basic conditions rather than by developments of a artificial nature."

WOUNDED MAN RECOVERING A. F. Stuever, Who Was Shot by Robbers, to Leave Hospital. Anthony F. Stuever, treasurer of the St. Louis Theater, who was wounded in the left side by robbers who escaped with $10,000 of the theater's receipts after shooting him and Patrolman Nelvin Shinall at Grand and Washington boulevards last Monday, will be permitted to go to his home, 3958A De Tonty street, by City Hospital physicians today. Stuever's recovery has been rapid, due to absence of infection in the wound. The bullet, which was removed from his back, was found to have chipped a minute bone from his spine. A more direct blow on the spine would have caused paralysis. Patrolman Shinall is recovering from wounds of the left side and arm. He will be forced to remain at the hospital. until the bone in his arm, fractured by the robbers' bullet, begins to

This hand is the deadline minimum with which a major take-out should be made and is weaker than the standard set by some of our most conservative players. If the spades were king-queen-10-x-x, the take-out would be much safer: but even with the hand as given, dum-my, in the event of a no-trump re-bid, probably could take care of the spades. If the no-trumper, sat-isfied with the take-out, permit it he'll be true to the last—but how's to stand, hand No. 1 may have sufficient strength to make a game in spades, which would not be possi le at no trump. If hand No. 1 hand did not contain a singletonwere in any way stronger (i. e., if it a two-spade take-out would be tained a side card of any value, sound. the jack of spades), there would be no difference of opinion regard-ing the advisability of the takeout. Wonderful what Nature did for man in making the whole wheat grain. It contains every element the human body needs. More wonderful still is the process by which SHREDDED WHEAT is made. No one has ever been able to improve upon our process, or even approach it, for making the whole wheat grain digestible. No other cereal food can be compared with it. Each and every crisp shred of wheat is full of health and strength. Nothing so good for youngsters as these little loaves of oven-baked shreds of wheat, toasted and served with butter, or served with hot milk or cream. Children like Shredded Wheat porridge better than any other porridge. One biscuit with milk makes a complete, nourishing meal-twelve good meals in every package.
